Posting Date: June 1, 2023

Closing Date: July 4, 2023

1 position/1 section available, in person

The Department of Mechanical and Materials Engineering in the Faculty of Engineering and Applied Science at Queen's University invites applications from suitably qualified candidates interested in teaching the following undergraduate course in the 2023-24 session.

The course will be taught in person with an expected enrollment of approximately 270 students. The successful applicant will have 100% percent responsibility for this course. Graduate teaching assistants will be assigned to assist with labs and marking.

MECH 346 Heat Transfer

January 2024 – April 2024

Qualifications:

Minimum of a PhD in Mechanical Engineering or a related field, expertise in the field relevant to the course, and appropriate teaching experience. Previous educational background and/or experience must be suited to teaching the course described below. Candidates must have excellent communication and presentation skills as proven with prior experience. Prior teaching experience in a University environment, specifically large lecture-based engineering courses would be an asset. Registration as a Professional Engineer, or eligibility to acquire registration in Canada, would be a strong asset.

Course Description and Teaching Requirement:

MECH 346 Heat Transfer W | 3.5

An introductory course which covers conduction, convection and radiation modes of heat transfer. Both analytical and numerical analysis will be discussed, and concepts will be reinforced through tutorial and laboratory sessions. Latter topics will include combined modes of heat transfer and the design of heat exchangers.
